

RACISM CONVERSATION CARDS

HOW TO PLAY

These racism conversation cards are designed to get you talking about something that generally feels... a bit uncomfortable for most of us. There are five cards in this pack, each with a different topic to discuss. It's best played with between 2-6 people.

Something that's really important to remember is that it's not about being right or wrong here. Enter the conversation in good faith looking for it to be a learning experience for all.

Everyone should have the opportunity to speak and share their perspective. The intention here is not to cause conflict but gain a deeper understanding of how people see the issues.

DISCLAIMER

If you've had past traumatic experiences with racism, consider this before starting the game and share only what you feel comfortable with.

CARD #01

“Racist banter or jokes are less harmful than overt racism, because it’s coming from friends or family.” Discuss.

THINGS TO CONSIDER

- Does intent matter?
- How does it impact bystanders?
- How do you know if people are okay with it?

CARD #02

What would it take for you to call out a friend or family member for a racist comment?

THINGS TO CONSIDER

- Why is it difficult to do this?
- How would you go about it?
- What's the first thing or memory that came to your mind?

CARD #03

“Racist terms are not racist if they are said by a person from the minority.” Discuss.

THINGS TO CONSIDER

- Is racism about skin colour?
- Can people be racist towards their own minority?

CARD #04

“It’s important for sport to take a leading role when it comes to the representation of minorities.” Discuss.

THINGS TO CONSIDER

- Do kids from minorities need role models who are like them?
- Are affirmative action policies helpful?

CARD #05

Describe how you felt about today's conversation in a few sentences.

THINGS TO CONSIDER

- Was it hard for you? Which part?
- Do you think it would be easier to talk about it next time?
- Are there any changes you would consider moving forward?
